USDA Wants to Hear from Stakeholders about Statistical Programs

WASHINGTON – March 22, 2018 – The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) announces the annual USDA Data Users’ Meeting. The meeting is free of charge and open to anyone interested in learning about recent and pending changes in various data and information programs important to agriculture. USDA and partner agencies will seek comments and input on these programs.

The 2018 meeting will be held from 1:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m. CDT on Tues., April. 24, 2018 at the University of Chicago – Gleacher Center, 450 North Cityfront Plaza Drive, Chicago, IL 60611.

NASS and partner agencies organize the annual meeting for USDA stakeholders. Other participating USDA agencies include the Agricultural Marketing Service, Economic Research Service, Farm Service Agency, Foreign Agricultural Service and the World Agricultural Outlook Board. The U.S. Census Bureau will also participate. Leaders from each agency will provide an overview of current issues and then take questions and comments.

Individuals who wish to attend the 2018 USDA Data Users’ Meeting may register online at www.nass.usda.gov/Education and Outreach/Meeting/. Summaries of previous meetings are available at the same web page. Please contact Matt Gregg at Matthew.Gregg@nass.usda.gov or (202) 690-3099 with any questions.

The Data Users’ Meeting precedes the Livestock Marketing Information Center’s Industry Outlook Conference that will be held at the same location on Wed., April. 25, 2018. The outlook meeting brings together analysts from various commodity sectors to discuss the outlook situation. For registration details or additional information for the Industry Outlook Conference, see the conference web page on the LMIC website: <http://lmic.info/page/meetings>. For more information, contact James Robb at (303) 716-9933.
