Today's Reports for Tomorrow's Decisions

A Word About NASS Reports...

The Agricultural Statistics Board (ASB) publishes reports of production, stocks, inventories, disposition, utilization, and prices of agricultural inputs and commodities, and other items such as labor, farm numbers, and agricultural chemical usage.

National reports are issued from the Washington, D.C., headquarters. Individual State reports are issued from the Field Offices (FO's) following release of the national reports. Printed copies of both ASB and FO reports are available for a fee.

An abundance of agricultural information is available to data users through our programs. In addition to the information above, estimates on more specialized commodities, including hop stocks, mink, cherries, cranberries, lentils, and peppermint oil are also available. The information is geared toward producers and can help them plan planting, feeding, breeding, and marketing programs. The data are also used by agricultural organizations, services, businesses, trade groups, and financial institutions to determine demand for inputs, resources, transportation, and storage-related crop and livestock products. Data are used to make and carry out agricultural policy concerning farm program legislation, commodity programs, agricultural research, and rural development

Data Security Is Our Top Priority. Names, addresses, and personal identifiers are never revealed or kept with data. NASS survey and census data never leave NASS control.

Only authorized persons working for NASS as employees or sworn partners, who are subject to fines and imprisonment for unauthorized disclosure, can access NASS data and only for approved statistical purposes. NASS does not conduct surveys or provide data for private, proprietary purposes.

When NASS collects data for others in a NASS-approved statistical study, farmers and ranchers will always be informed about the cooperating sponsor and participation will always be voluntary.

Summary data from all NASS surveys and censuses are available to everyone, but will never disclose individual reported information.

NASS reports are available electronically immediately after release via Today's Reports from the NASS Homepage at <http://www.nass.usda.gov>.

E-Mail Subscriptions

E-Mail Subscriptions to NASS and World Agricultural Outlook Board (WOAB) periodicals are available free of charge via e-mail, generally delivered within one hour of publication. Our electronic mailing list provides quick and timely access to the agricultural and economic information estimates. Please note that delivery time may take longer depending on factors, such as network speed and report size.

NASS Revision Policy

Most estimates are subject to revision, if necessary, when the next estimate is prepared. Revisions are made to provide data users with the best possible data for evaluating the current estimates. Revisions are based on additional information, such as new surveys, late reports, corrected data, or more complete administrative data. Revisions may also be based on a re-evaluation of previous survey data when making current estimates to improve survey to survey relationships.

Understanding USDA Crop Forecasts

The publication describes the statistical methodology used by the National Agricultural Statistics Service to prepare the crop forecasts to give users of the data a better understanding. This is followed by a similar description of the world agriculture supply and demand estimates prepared by the WAOB. This publication is also available in Spanish, Russian and Chinese. To obtain a copy of this publication call Customer Service at 1-800-727-9540 and ask for Miscellaneous Publication No. 1554.

NASS Homepage -- <http://www.nass.usda.gov>

Through a cooperative project with Cornell University, the Albert R. Mann Library distributes NASS, Economic Research Service (ERS), and World Agricultural Outlook Board (WAOB) periodicals and data files via the USDA Economics and Statistics System on a web server. Over 400 reports annually are available free of charge. All NASS reports and WAOB's World Agricultural Supply and Demand Estimates (WASDE) are available electronically within minutes of release.

A calendar of scheduled releases is available from the NASS Homepage by clicking on Publications. At the next screen, select Reports Calendar and choose the year and month. To view a combined schedule of releases from NASS, ERS, and WAOB, select the Search from the Publications page and click on Calendar in the upper frame.

NASS Subject Specialists on the Internet

NASS maintains a listing of subject and commodity specialists for the various program areas. From the NASS Homepage, Click on Publication, then Contacts.

NASS Customer Service

Agricultural Statistics Data Base (Quick Stats)

U.S. and State information, published in NASS national reports, is available in an online database via the Internet FREE OF CHARGE. The database allows custom extracts based on commodity, year, State, and other selection criteria and produces an output file compatible for updating databases and spreadsheets for selected commodities. The database can be accessed from the NASS Homepage at: <http://www.nass.usda.gov> and select "Quick Stats".

County level data are also available via Quick Stats. The data include the total crops for each county and breakouts for irrigated and non-irrigated practices for many crops, for selected States. The database allows custom extracts based on commodity, year, selected counties within a State, or all counties in one or more States. The county data include totals for the Agricultural Statistics Districts (county groupings) and the State. The download data files contain planted and harvested area, yield per acre, and production.

Another method for customers to access crops county data is via pre-extracted files. The pre-extracted data files, in Comma-Separated Value (CSV) format, are available for the current year, as well as historic years. These files were extracted from the Quick Stats and contain total crop and cropping practices for each county.

District forecasts are also available for selected States during the current year. From the Agricultural Statistics Data Base "Quick Stats" page, click on District forecasts to access this data.

In addition to the many statistical activities directly related to its mission, NASS conducts surveys for and lends technical expertise to other Federal agencies, State governments, and private organizations on a reimbursable basis.

NASS provides support and assistance in the areas of questionnaire and sample design, data collection and editing, analysis of survey results, and training. For further information contact the Survey Administration Branch at 202-720-2248.

NASS International Program Activities

NASS technical support is not confined to the domestic sphere since Agency specialists frequently provide assistance and training to other countries to help establish or improve their agricultural statistics programs.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Many thanks to the farmers, ranchers, and producers across the nation who willingly participate in the surveys with the National Agricultural Statistics Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. They are the strength behind the NASS agricultural inventory, production, price and environmental information, products and services. We appreciate their support and cooperation—they are the cornerstone of the food and fiber system that feeds and clothes the world.
