TOMATO PROCESSORS EXPECT TO CONTRACT 13.0 MILLION TONS IN 2013

The California Agricultural Statistics Service surveyed the State's tomato processors for their intended contract acreage and tonnage for the upcoming 2013 season. The data reported by processors was either tonnage with derived acreage, or acreage with derived tonnage.

California's tomato processors reported they have, or will have, contracts for 13.0 million tons this year, as of January. Processors estimate that the contracted production for 2013 will come from 261,000 acres producing an average yield of 49.81 tons per acre. The contracted planted acreage forecast is 1,000 acres more than what was reported under contract in the August 2012 California Processing Tomato Report.

This early processing tomato estimate is funded by the California League of Food Processors, in cooperation with the California Department of Food and Agriculture. The USDA processing intentions estimate for all states will be issued on April 1 in the Vegetables publication.
