

November 28, 2005

NEW YORK: Days suitable: 3.5. Topsoil moisture 77 percent adequate, 23 percent surplus. The week started off with flurries and freezing temperatures. A cold front brought lake enhanced snow across the typical snowbelt counties. Snow was falling across Upstate New York on Thanksgiving Day. Rainfall varied. Corn and soybeans continued to be harvested. Vegetable harvests were winding down. Activities included: spreading manure, packing and grading fall potatoes and onions, orchard clean-up, machinery repair and maintenance.