

April 14, 2008

NEW YORK: Warmer weather continued through the week ending April 13, with temperatures ranging from the 30's to highs in the mid-60's. Maple syrup producers continued to boil. Apple, onion, and potato growers continued moving their crops from storage for grading and packing. Other major activities included tending livestock, spreading manure, attending meetings and trade shows, preparing equipment for plantings, and finalizing plans for the upcoming season.