NORTH DAKOTA CROP PROGRESS AND CONDITION

FARGO, ND June 16, 2014 – For the week ending June 15, 2014, varied amounts of rainfall received across the state last week slowed most fieldwork activity, according to the USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service. Amounts ranged from half an inch in the western part of the state to over two inches in the east. Temperatures averaged 4 to 6 degrees below normal across the state. The cooler weather caused delays in row crop development as warmer temperatures were needed to achieve optimal growing conditions. Last week's rains, along with moisture received in earlier weeks, have caused grass in pastures to grow rapidly. Statewide, there were 4.5 days considered suitable for fieldwork. Topsoil moisture supplies rated 0 percent very short, 4 short, 68 adequate, and 28 surplus. Subsoil moisture supplies rated 1 percent very short, 2 short, 74 adequate, and 23 surplus.
