Ohio November Crop Production

Ohio producers reported slightly higher corn yield expectations than they did last month, according to Cheryl Turner, State Statistician, USDA NASS, Ohio Field Office. The November Crop Production Report is based on conditions as of November 1, 2019. Some highlights of the report are as follows:

- Ohio corn yield, at 163 bushels per acre, is down 24 bushels from last year's crop, but up 3 bushels per acre from the October 1 estimate. Total production is expected to be 422 million bushels, down 32 percent from 2018. Corn harvest progress was lagging the 5-year average in Ohio by a large margin. Growers were hampered by poor harvesting conditions and a very immature crop.
- Ohio soybean production is expected to total 205 million bushels, down 27 percent from last year. The yield is forecast at 48 bushels per acre, down 8 bushels from 2018. As of the week ending November 3, soybean harvest was 78 percent complete in Ohio, 8 points behind the 5-year average.
- U.S. corn production for grain is forecast at 13.7 billion bushels, down 1 percent from the previous forecast and down 5 percent from last year. Based on conditions as of November 1, yields are expected to average 167.0 bushels per harvested acre, down 1.4 bushels from the previous forecast and down 9.4 bushels from 2018. Area harvested for grain is forecast at 81.8 million acres, unchanged from the previous forecast but up slightly from 2018.
- U.S. soybean production for beans is forecast at 3.55 billion bushels, down slightly from the previous forecast and down 20 percent from last year. Based on conditions as of November 1, yields are expected to average 46.9 bushels per acre, unchanged from the previous forecast but down 3.7 bushels from 2018. Area harvested for beans in the United States is forecast at 75.6 million acres, unchanged from the previous forecast but down 14 percent from 2018.
